One Frisco Fight Club To Handle All Bouts

Coffroth in Control, With Levy Next—Ryan Gases Some More About Meeting O'Brien—Thomas and Herbert.

By W. W. NAUGHTON.

SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 20.—While the interclub jealousies have delayed progress in the formation of the boxing combine mentioned in last week's letter, I have the satisfaction of knowing that I outlined the situation correctly.

Jim Coffroth will practically be director-general of fights in this city during the year, and Morris Levy will be associated with him. Permits will be issued to one organization, which in all probability, will be known as the San Francisco Boxing Union.

Levy, it is said, while quite willing to pool the profits of the boxing industry, doesn't like to lose his individuality as a promoter, and for that reason may insist on handling his pro rata of the monthly dates himself. But whether Coffroth supervises all of the fights or general manager of the year's operations, the fact remains that there is to be but one club and one balance sheet.

This means that only one annual license of $1200 will be paid into the city treasury.

The Marvin Hart-Tommy Ryan combination comprising two world's champions—count "em—is nearing San Francisco, and then we will know what Mr. Ryan proposes.

While on tour Tommy's name was linked with so many prospective goes, many of which were to take place about the same time at places thousands of miles apart, that it looked as though Ryan was hunting matches with a brass band.

In a letter to Coffroth the secretary of the all-champion aggregation is the head, Ryan wonders says Ryan will be pleased to meet Jack O'Brien for the middleweight championship in San Francisco at an early date. The weight named is 158 pounds ringside, and O'Brien, as an additional incentive to trade with the "big store" of which Ryan is the head, is promised a heavyweight championship mill with Marvin Hart two months later.

Ryan doesn't stop to figure what horrible complications may arise if Ryan beats O'Brien for the middleweight title, and O'Brien defeats Hart for the heavyweight honors.

Coffroth has cleared the situation for the time being by writing Ryan that O'Brien, when here, said 158 pounds at 3 o'clock was the lowest weight he would make for any man.

Coffroth informed Ryan that he is willing to give him a date with Jack (Twin) Sullivan at Mechanics' Pavilion next month, and that as Sullivan can do the weight stipulated by Ryan the event can be advertised as a middleweight championship.

Coffroth adds a rider to the effect that if Ryan and O'Brien can agree upon the time being by Ryan that O'Brien, when here, said 158 pounds at 3 o'clock was the lowest weight he would make for any man.

Coffroth informed Ryan that he is willing to give him a date with Jack (Twin) Sullivan at Mechanics' Pavilion next month, and that as Sullivan can do the weight stipulated by Ryan the event can be advertised as a middleweight championship.

Bowling Marks Smashed By Saengerbund Quint

Set New Record of 3,094 for Set and 1,122 for Game—Luck With Fat Men.

Miller's Great Performance.

While the Saengerbund and Acmes are hammering the pins for bigger totals than the leaders and "squeezing for the Fat Men" to his toboogan, the men of avoidance jolly along with their "pinch hitting" and team work, and, though having fallen to third place in team average, in team standing they are scarcely within flagging distance of their nearest rivals, the Bund.

There seems to be no indication of dizziness of the Fats due to their giddy position, but the season is little more than half over, and should the Saengers not win out in the end their terrific bombardment of the mapsles should darken a lot of the daylight between them and the flying leaders. The Acmes have increased their team average from 891 to 960, five points better than the Fat Men, but they are not fortunate in getting their big totals in the right place.

Luck in the German game was never better shown than by a comparison of the work of the Florists and Bank Clerks. The latter, 151 points ahead of the former in percentage of games won, are 242 pins behind it in total pins.

Every team improved in its work during the past two weeks, notably the Bund and the Market House, their games in team average being eleven and ten points, respectively.

Not straight defeats for the Florists were their record in two weeks. A morning wreath and down to the dungeon for the Bloomers.

All the Capital City bowling world is talking of the magnificent achievement of the Saengers in their Acme match, when they smashed the mapsles for a set of 3,094 and a game of 1,122, both record-breaking performances, nothing even approaching it having ever been bowled in District League competition.

Only one on the team, Captain Eckstein, fell below a 600 total, Miller having 654; Allison, 637; Burdine, 623, and Crist, 608.

Another record established in this match was by Miller, who by stringing up ten straight strikes reached a total of 288, the highest game ever bowled in a local league. This will no doubt win for "Wee Willie" the dress suit case donated for the greatest number of strikes, and clinches the "X-ray of golden hue" donated by E. S. Randall for the bowler first making eight consecutive strikes.

Comfort for Miller.

This record-breaking game has also probably fixed Miller comfortably for next winter, as a furniture company offers a mahogany and leather rocking chair for the highest individual game.

In the Acme's match with the Market House, Krauss, of the former team, won the razor for the first 235 or over game after January 1, with 246. Harry would have landed this prize without his 246, as he copped out 27 in the second game of the set with the Bund, Miller's 288 being the last game.

Miller and Krauss have both swelled their averages, but "Buck" Allison still clings to his lead in the individual race, which he has increased from 195 to over 198. Allison also leads in 300 games. Eckstein has the greatest number of clean games, his total of eight being one better than Allison.

It was noted by several spectators at Wednesday's match that Warren, of the Acmes, who donated $25 for a 300 game, "broke" in his last two frames when Miller was making his ninth and tenth consecutive strikes. Not much wonder Billy's naves went bad.

Allison and Bailey, respectively, lead in strike and spare averages. The following averages cover all games to Friday last.
